

T. E. SUBLETTE, Proprietor.
KIRKSVILLE, MISSOURI

—English capitalists have invested two million dollars in Maccon county coal lands.

—There are now six democrats, who want Mr. Vest's place in the Senate. They are David R. Francis, Judge Norton, Jefferson Chandler, Judge Sherwood, Richard P. Bland and John O'Day.

—The Russian influenza has reached St. Louis and they are having a sneezing time down there. Democrats may now get out their campaign bandanas, for the disease may reach this point at any hour.

—The symptoms of Russian influenza, the disease now prevailing in this country, is headache, with chilly sensations followed by high fever; after the fever violent sneezing begins, and is kept up till the disease has run its course.

—The Senate Committee on Territories has about made up its mind to recommend the admission of Idaho and Wyoming as States. The Democrats will very likely oppose the measure, as the new states would probably be Republican. The former have a lively remembrance of Washington, the Dakotas and Montana.

—Some of the Republicans are attempting with pretty fair success, to fix the moral, if not the financial responsibility of the Silcott defalcation upon Ex-Speaker Carlisle, whom it is charged, permitted the faithless cashier to serve several months without giving bond. It is held that Silcott's bondsmen are not now legally responsible for the ex-cashier's short comings. The committee to investigate this affair has virtually agreed to report a bill reimbursing the victims of the swindle.

—It seems that the confession of Armour, before the committee investigating the beef combine, that he cleared $400,000 last year, and that the net profits on a single beef was only $1.32, has stirred up the English blood. The English capitalist has been getting only a small per cent on his investments, and to read of profits like the above causes him to lose sleep. English capital has been buying up all the breweries in the United States, because of the immense revenue yielded by them, and now a new departure is contemplated. A gigantic slaughtering establishment is to be erected near Montreal, Canada, which is to be supplied with cattle from the Chicago market. This will make Chicago the greatest cattle market in the world, and when Johnny Bull and Columbia begin to struggle for supremacy in the dressed beef business, we may expect to see the beef combine, if there has ever been one, speedily go to pieces.

We have heard it reported that Kirksville has a dancing club, with a teacher, and that every church in town is represented in it. We don't know whether this is true or not, but if it is the church members should get out of the club or out of the church. If things go on at the present rate much longer the devil will need to erect a lot of new furnaces in which to roast his converts.—Kirksville Journal.

—To read the above one would conclude that the writer had been either suddenly converted or was using a vast amount of hypocrisy. Has the writer forgotten that only a few short months ago, as manager of the Opera House, he brought shows of questionable morality to Kirksville and advertised them in his paper as being worthy of public patronage. Has he so soon forgotten the "bouquet" business? He no doubt considers it very immoral for young people to dance for pleasure, but when they are allured to a place, where they can behold the artistic step of the "kan kan" at thirty-five and fifty cents a head, it loses its immoral and unchristian aspect. This is not written in defense of church members who dance, but to call attention to the fact that one, who would pose as a great moral reformer, before turning a flood of piety loose on the community, should, at least, apologize to an insulted public for his own disregard for morality and decency.

CHRISTMAS ENTERTAINMENTS.

AT THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

There was a merry and glad time with the children of the Sunday school and their teachers. A beautiful tree was placed in front of the altar and was loaded with beautiful gifts for the children. A service appropriate for the occasion, was taken from the Church Porch, and was followed by the singing of a hymn and an address on the Lord's birth into our hearts, by the Rector of the Mission.

AT THE M. E. CHURCH SOUTH.

The South Methodist had their Christmas entertainment in one of Mr. Spencer's new rooms on the corner south of the public square. The little people enjoyed themselves with amusing games until Santa Claus, blowing his trumpet, rushed in unexpectedly to any of them. There was then a general commotion, some yelling, others laughing and a few of the smaller ones not a little frightened. He then treated all to oranges, candies, peanuts, cakes and popcorn. After enjoying a general feast all dispersed, the little ones with smiling faces, and all pronouncing it a success.

AT THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

The entertainment consisted of Missionary exercises representing how the Christians of the United States were endeavoring to send the gospel into all heathen lands, and children of the United States receiving thanks from heathen children in costumes of the different nations. Even Africa was well represented by three little boys, who could not be distinguished from the genuine Kirksville darlings. A fine evergreen tree prettily illuminated was conspicuous and delighted the children. A collection of willow-twig apples was served to the entire audience and a generous bag of candy to each child in the house, making them feel that it was good to be there.

AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH.

The entertainment at the Baptist church was a success. The house was filled to overflowing. The happy children sang again and again, interspersing their songs with little speeches. Some of the little girls have splendid voices, among them Florence Chambliss and Stella White.

The entertainment was closed with a tableau representing Jacob's Ladder, in which a number of beautiful children took a part being dressed in white with gauzy wings. They were arranged on a stairway reaching from the floor almost to the ceiling and when the lights were thrown on the effect was most striking and lovely. Packages containing candy, nuts and oranges were given to each of the children.

AT THE M. E. CHURCH.

All the young folks, and the old ones too, of the above church met on Christmas eve, to enjoy a good time, and were most successful.

The church had been nicely decorated, and the many presents for old and young were suspended from two ladders leaning against each other.

The large audience room was packed to overflowing with an expectant audience. The choir opened with an anthem; followed by a scripture lesson by Mr. Love, and then a song, "Joy to the World," by the entire school. The pastor, Rev. J. M. Green led in prayer, which was followed by another song; then a recitation by Miss Ollie Cater, which was very pleasing to all. Little Effie Bigsby, three years old, stood on a chair and made a pleasing little speech which brought forth loud applause. Miss Alma Smith then rendered a poem from Whittier, delivered in her pleasing and perfect style. Next came a song by the school, then the general class collection, amounting to quite a sum, for the benefit of the poor of the city. Rev. Mr. Stevens, the English revivalist, then delivered an address, describing his trip across the Atlantic, which was original and interesting. This was followed by the distribution of presents, with the usual merriment, and then a general treat. After a social and enjoyable time, all dispersed to their homes, long to remember the pleasant evening.

AT THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

Christmas evening by half past six o'clock, the Christian church was packed full of anxious people to see "Santa Claus & Co." render their most interesting and exquisite play entitled, "Santa Claus & Co., A Christmas Cantata." By seven o'clock every inch of room had been exhausted, in fact, the house was packed for a full hour before the entertainment opened. The Superintendent, Prof. J. I. Nelson was called to the stage when U. M. Browder, the Pastor, presented him with two elegant presents, in behalf of the Sunday School, as a token of the appreciation of the members and teachers of the school for his work as their leader. Miss May Loomis, the pianist, then played the beautiful introduction to the play of "Santa Claus & Co.," and the entertainment began.

Personations: The Snow fairies Misses Della Shaver; Naonie Sanford and Miss Harlan. The Evergreen Fairies, Misses Maggie Glenn, Nellie Mason and Pearl Jones. The Holly Fairies, Misses Brown Nelson and Campbell. Mildred, child of the rich, Miss Frank Browder; Pattie, a child of the poor, Miss Sattie Glenn. Jack Frost, Prof. Forquer. Santa Claus, Willie Sanford. The platform was most exquisitely decorated with evergreens and snow, and the costumes were nearly perfect in every way. Pattie, who appeared in a faded and patched calico, with shawl over her beautiful ringlets, played her part in a most skillful manner. The Fairies in their gorgeous costumes, represented much of the beauty, refinement and musical talent of Kirksville. Prof. Forquer, who was the Chief drill master in the preparation, was presented at the close with an elegant present, on the part of the Sunday School.

THE C. P. CHURCH.

The exercises of this Sunday school were held in the Opera house, which was packed from parquette to gallery. The exercises opened with an address of welcome and prayer by Dr. J. B. Mitchell, the pastor of the church, followed by a prologue by the Orchestra. The greeting glees was then given by the entire school, and was followed by a beautifully rendered duet by Misses Alta Baird and Lena Wilkes, and the invocation to the goddess of Joy, a solo by Miss Mattie Dinsmore. These exercises were followed by the Christmas Cantata, "Santa Claus." PERSONATIONS—Frost King, W. J. Brasfield; Santa Claus, B. W. Ross; Goddess of Joy, Miss Anna Neilson; Goddess of Hope, Miss Belle Martin; Goddess of Mirth, Mrs. Ed. C. Pickler; Goddess of Dreams, Miss Grace Sharp; Goddess of Peace, Miss Ida Miller; fairies, Mrs. H. E. Patterson, and Misses Hila Richey and Mattie Smith.

The beautiful Christmas Cantata was almost faultlessly rendered in every detail. Probably the most beautiful and entertaining part, however, was the bed-room scene. When the curtain arose on this scene six little children were represented as dressed ready for bed, and with their attendants were hanging up the little stockings. After the children were put to bed and the coverlets tucked close about each little face, the Goddess of Dreams entered and put them to sleep by singing a lullaby and waving over them her magic wand. Then entered the three fairies, each of whom sang a solo and then joined in a beautiful trio to further deepen the slumbers of the children. After the departure of the fairies Santa Claus entered on tip toe and proceeded to fill the stockings. While engaged in this he stumbled over a chair and awoke the children, who sat up and gazed in mute astonishment. After making them a pleasant speech, he bade them good night when he retired. The children then jumped out of bed to examine the stockings, which were well filled. The exercises closed with Santa Claus and the entire school on the stage, and the singing of the song "To Thee Indulgent Father, These Festive Scenes We Owe."

The entire program was under the management of Mr. W. J. Brasfield, to whom as leader and drill master the great success of the occasion is due.

At Sublette the Christmas festivities were unusually good. The church was beautifully decorated, and a magnificent tree reared its head to the ceiling, and was loaded with choice and beautiful presents. After an excellent musical and literary program had been presented, Santa Claus appeared greatly to the delight of the children, and superintended the distribution of the gifts.

Western Academy Notes.

Holidays are here and with them Prof. Geo. F. Nason, "a chip of the old block," also the intelligence that he is to be added to the faculty of the Academy. We know the "old block" George, and welcome the chip, there is room in our hearts for you, take possession of it.

Students of Western Academy carried with them, to their homes six hundred mid-year catalogues, to supply their friends who are interested in education.

Rev. Mr. Walker visited school Wednesday morning and conducted the opening exercises. He gave a very nice and very encouraging talk to the students on the importance of improving their present opportunities.

The closing for holidays was an occasion long to be remembered by both teachers and pupils. Profs. Anderson and Nason addressed the pupils for a short time commending them for their progress and their courteous deportment and inspiring them for a noble ambition for the future. Immediately after this, one of the students, Mr. Simpson, advanced to the rostrum and in a neat little speech presented a very elegant gold headed cane to Prof. Nason. Mr. Dameror, another student, presented Prof. Anderson with its counterpart in a nicely worded address. The Professors responded to each of these with a speech in which they expressed their high appreciation of the gifts and also of the spirit which prompted the students of Western Academy to present them.

Mrs. Anderson then arose and in behalf of the young ladies presented Prof. Rause with a nice toilet case. Prof. Geo. F. Nason, on behalf of the gentlemen of the institution presented Mrs. Anderson with a fine family Bible, to which she responded with a very appropriate and elegantly worded address. After this Misses Nellie Fisher and Maud Long on their own behalf presented Profs. Anderson and Nason respectively, a shaving set and collar and cuff case. In the evening Mrs. Davis and her pupils gave a musical entertainment, after which the students and their friends remained and enjoyed themselves socially, listening to music discoursed by LaBelle Band and recitations delivered by members of the various societies. They all seemed to enjoy themselves very much and separated for their homes with many mutual wishes for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

EDITOR GRAPHIC:—I believe it is customary where one has been assailed through a paper, to give the party assailed a hearing. As this has not been granted by the publication of the article below, will you please publish the matter with this explanation, as the paper has subscribers here, and Mr. Browder, who resides here, is one of its editors. The paper is published at Plattsburg, this state.

Kirksville, Mo., Dec. 9th 1889.

EDITOR CHURCH REGISTER:—I have some objections to Mr. Browder's mode of "reviewing" my book, or answering my questions. I object to his giving and answering one question, and saying that it answers another, without giving the other. I object to his giving and answering one or more questions, and leaving out others, when the subject matter runs through all. As an illustration by his course in producing wrong impressions, he says:—"Question 36. Are mankind to blame for the evil propensities inherited from the father of all?" This question is founded upon previous questions and the one which follows, which he omits, and is numbered and reads as follows. 37. "I form the light, and create darkness: I make peace and create evil: I the Lord do all these things" (Isa. 45, 7). "The Lord hath made all things for himself: yea, even the wicked for the day of evil" (Prov. 16, 4). Does not this settle the source from whence evil came? and 38. Does it not leave the devil clear, or merely an underling? Mr. Browder seems to be very fond of skipping, for he is going through the book with "a skip, hop and jump." Would it not be better for his side to skip the whole thing entire? I will not use such language toward Mr. Browder as he uses toward me. Among other hard things, he says that I am insincere and dishonest. To show my honesty of purpose in publishing the book, and my sincerity for the good of mankind, and to prove his sincerity and willingness to defend the cause he advocates, I will make him a proposition. I will give him twenty-five dollars to read the entire book to his congregation, allowing him to make all the comments he may see fit as he goes along. He to commence, after announcing the time to his audience, on a Sunday night, and continue on each following Sunday night until the work is finished. He may have all the time in this that he may choose to occupy. Certainly he cannot object to reading anything to his congregation contained in the book, unless it is extracts from the Bible, and he should not object to read any part of the "Word of God" to a public audience when it is claimed that the Bible is the best book even to place into the hands of children.
